for him. The people of this State would not only oppose a translation for indelicacy is not one of them.—Glasgow News.

THE DISPATCH ON TRIAL.

The Louisville Dispatch, in urging the election of Bryan, insisted that the only way to get free silver was through the Democratic party. Now that same sheet is sowing discord and dissatisfaction among its readers, and for what? To satisfy personal ambition and avenge an imaginary insult. Does this paper wish to see four years more of Republican misrule at Frankfort? If it does, everybody will agree that it is performing the right course. If it does not, then let it cease its traitorous course against the regularly nominated candidates. To continue the course of the Louisville Dispatch will tell fellows who asked because they didn't get their choice.—Nebuchadnezzar Democrat.

SOMETHING ABOUT W. C. OWENS WHO IS AGAINST GOLD.

Mr. W. C. Owens has issued a statement that when the call for the Hamilton ticket in November, and this seems to have created no consternation in Georgetown, or elsewhere, Mr. Owens is the man who was once elected speaker of the Kentucky house of representatives and the next session could not muster done votes. He is also the man who was elected to Congress by the skin of his teeth, by the combined efforts of Democrats, Republicans, Prohibitionists, women and preachers over Col. Billy Breckinridge, when the latter was under heavy fire, and made such a record during one term that he was not seriously mentioned for renomination. He is also the man who could not work up after 100 days in Scott county for Hildin and Stone against Campbell.

THE PUNNY STAKES OF PUNNY NEWS.—Col. Craddock, in Paris Kentucky

TAYLOR IS BLACK KNOWN.

There is talk of the Republicans nominating Hon. John W. Taylor as vice-presidential in the state convention at Lexington next week, just like "Forty General Taylor is just dark enough."—Glasgow Times.

DESIGNED.

John D. Mangum has his brain full of politics. That is to say, his treasury is full of the man, Texas whose vice-presidential. "Was she resigned to it, fate?" inspired a sympathetic form.—Designed n-l, she said to her's the Texan.

JERESAIME IN LOVE.

This county is named for Mr. Hildin for Governor and the delegates to Louisville worked as hard and as hard as a city delegation to be in any of the county's nominations. They came here for the convention talking and working for the State's choice, Hon. William Goodell.—Nicholsville Democrat.

THE WEATHER.

Prof. L. I. Hicks, the weather forecaster, has the following for Jan. 17: From 7th to 11th, look out for gray weather. The barometer will fall for wind and many storms and severe frosts will prevail across the country about the 8th to 11th. Mercury, Vulcan and New Moon are considered in this period, making most beautiful periods for rain in Jan. On and touching the 14th and 15th, the next period in which storm clouds will return. Low barometer and threatening clouds will appear all three periods, but rain will not dition. The man who stands for ten years between the excrements of the crowd and the righted of the people is entitled to some consideration, no matter what one preoccupied urinations of him may be.—Marion Press.

Kentucky wakes and stands sadly in need of best aid of her sons, and in that Wm. Geobell is most clearly demonstrated. The most brilliant, astute and able politician and statesman of the age has been selected. The man who introduced the "cotton bill," that will absolutely forbid the possibility of another slave law that of 1850 and 1856. The man, who by sheer brain power, with the subtlest representation in a convention, won the Democratic nomination despite the odds that were against him, will, in all probability, win the gubernatorial contest before the people—Entireties Contradictors.

Mr. Geobell is a gallant leader, and the rising star of the Young Democracy of Kentucky. He is a man who cannot defeat. He attracts his friends 90 him with looks of order. We predict that he will make the most brilliant record for Governor in the history of the State. He is the only man to be a candidate in Kentucky for that high office, and that he will be elected by an overwhelming majority, and that his administration of the high office of the proud old Commonwealth of Kentucky will be one of the strongest the State has had in its history.—William Wainwright.

One of the greatest down and out-castings in the history of Kentucky has just occurred, and with it that one of the strongest. If not the strongest tickets ever returned of has been passed. The man now for Governor, Wm. Geobell, is a grand man. His strategy young Bree tree, glided, and slowly passed from scrutiny. W. H. Smith delivered one of his most eloquent orations and then—entertained and edified the assembly. Talbot Jackson, one of our young orators acquired himself like a man. Rev. Blevins, from Virginia, cast some what of a religious tone over the dinner; Alley Adams, the Senior Vice-Chancellor, also electrified the meeting. The Rev. POISON OAK CURE.

Down in the cliffs, in the woods, the fence corners and wherever the poison oak grows, the following is the best cure. It is a small, round, green, berry-like growth, about the size of a pea, and is likely to be found at this time of the year. The harmless-looking but dangerous plant scarcely resembles the Virginia creeper that the careless student is apt to pluck its pretty green leaves, learning to literary regret. The act has been so common that it has been so abused by this pest may do so again by following these directions, given by the Chicago Record:

"With a slice of bread with water, and with common washing soda, the plant is to be rubbed, keeping the bread wet from the outside. It is asserted that half an hour of this treatment will surely cure."

LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE.

Lippincott's Magazine, which has so long and so successfully carried on its daily issue, brings out a complete Japanese novel, by John Lullier. The author of "Miss Cherry Blossom," "Madame Butterfly," etc. "The Flower of the East," etc. is now publishing a translation of a Japanese story in which a Japanese artist never makes the trip
